Car Crashes Into Kosy Korner

HALIBURTON (ENS) — Seven persons were injured, two seriously, when a station wagon crashed through the front of a restaurant on the village's main street early last Saturday evening.

Linda Mack, 13, of Port Credit, suffered a severe concussion and cuts and bruises. She was transferred from Haliburton Red Cross Hospital late Saturday to Toronto.

Katheleen Latham, 13, of Port Credit, sustained multiple facial and body cuts and was in only fair condition at the Red Cross Hospital here.

The other five persons in the vehicle all received out-patient treatment at the hospital.

Provincial Police at Minden identified the driver of the station wagon as Catherine Potter, 63, of 26 Wenonah Dr., Port Credit.

They said the vehicle had just been filled with gasoline at Elstone's Service Station and was leaving the lot when the accelerator jammed and the vehicle raced across the road about 90 feet before crashing into the restaurant.

Fortunately there was only one customer in the building when the crash occurred, Dr. A. E.

Holmewood of Willowdale. He assisted in giving treatment to the injured prior to their removal to hospital by Haliburton Ambulance.

Damage to the station wagon was estimated at $1,500 and an estimated $1,000 damage was caused to the restaurant.

Mrs. Potter suffered facial cuts and chest injuries; Patricia Jones, 12, Deborah Papp, 12, Donna Lawrence, 13, all of Port Credit, were given treatment for head and facial injuries, and Mrs. Nancy McDonald, 20, of Etobicoke, suffered facial cuts and body bruises.

OPP Have Busy Week

The O.P.P. report from Minden Detachment reveals that three property damage accidents with damage estimated to be $1,025.00 and two personal injury accidents with an estimated $3,100.00 damage and eight persons injured were investigated during the week of May 28 to June 3. Fifteen charges were laid under the Highway Traffic Act and four under the Liquor Control Act.

Patrols of 2,800 miles of provincial and county roads were also conducted during this period.

Criminal investigations totalled seventeen, broken down as follows: five thefts, six disturbances, three break and enters, and three damage to property.

In the next several weeks we are going to endeavour to refresh your memory regarding safe boating in hopes that we will have an accident free summer on the water. These laws apply to pleasure craft and the first one we shall cover will be the law regarding equipment and is as follows: Every vessel not over 18 feet in length SHALL carry (a) one approved small vessel life-jacket or approved life saving cushion for each person on board; (b) two oars and rowlocks or two paddles; (c) one bailer or one manual pump; and (d) if equipped with an inboard motor, permanently fixed or built-in fuel tanks or a cooking or heating appliance that burns liquid or gaseous fuel, one Class BI fire extinguisher.

SEWER AID EXTENDED BY PROVINCE

We have from time to time been told by some of the members of the Dysart Municipal Council that if we are to have sewage in Haliburton a vote of the people would have to be taken. This statement is at variance with a policy statement issued by the provincial government on Tuesday of this week, which reads as follows:

Ontario's smaller municipalities will now be able to have new sewage and waterworks systems without adding to their municipal debt, John Simcnett, Minister of Energy and Resources Management, told the Legislature yesterday.

A change in government policy will let the Ontario Water Resources Commission build collector sewers and water distribution mains as well as the trunk lines, sewage plants and waterworks installations it is already permitted to build.

Cost of the installations will be recovered from the municipalities through water and sewage charges. The plants and sewers will remain the property of the provincial government.

An example of the need for such a step is Red Lake, Ont., where residents must boil the polluted water to make it fit to drink.

John Barr, Director of the O.W.R.C.'s Sanitary Engineering Division, said a new sewer-water service for a town of 1,000 will cost $1,268,573. The Commission hopes to begin construction this summer.

Mr. Simcnett estimated there are probably hundreds of municipalities that will enter into agreements with O.W.R.C. under the new policy.

Police Probe Store Theft

COBOCONK (ENS) — Ontario Provincial Police here are investigating theft of a .22 calibre rifle and groceries owned by Howard Barker of Norland.

Mr. Barker had left the purchases at a Coboconk store while he visited another store, and on his return found them missing.

Also being investigated is a break-in at a cottage and boat-house owned by Robert Murdoch of Toronto. Articles taken from the premises were recovered near the Murdoch cottage, located on Highway 46 near Kirkfield.

Eleven mailboxes were pulled from their posts by vandals near Norland over the weekend, police report.

Theft of a candy dispenser from O'Toole's Snack Bar on the village's main street here is being investigated. Between $10 and $15 was in the machine when it was taken.

Only Seven Days Left To See Sound Of Music At The Beaver

Rogers & Hammerstein's "The Sound of Music" is the film version of one of the most beloved stage musicals of the last decade. A tuneful, heartwarming story, it is based on the true story of the Von Trapp family singers, one of the world's best-known concert groups in the era immediately preceding World War II.

"The Sound of Music" is wonderful entertainment and is now being shown at the Beaver Theatre in Minden. You have only seven more days to see this great movie in the Haliburton District. It will be playing at the Beaver Theatre until Wednesday, June 14. It will unfortunately not return to the Molou Theatre at Haliburton for six months to a year, until it can be shown at regular admission prices and for less than a two week engagement. The Echo was in conversation with Mr. Lou Consky, owner of the Beaver and Molou Theatres here, and he told us that owing to long run Road Show arrangements (a minimum of two weeks playing time), the only arrangement under which The Sound of Music is being sold is at road show prices of $2.00 and $1.75 for Adults and .90c for Children. It could only play one theatre in the district and the Beaver at Minden won the toss.

Those who have seen "The Sound of Music" really say the scenery and the singing is well worth the price of admission. Why not give the entire family a treat and take them to the Beaver Theatre at Minden to see "The Sound of Music".

Minden Curling Club News

The executive of the Minden Curling Club held an enthusiastic meeting on Wednesday, May 31.

A "Nine-day Summer Mixed Bonspiel" is planned for July 29 to August 6 inclusive, commencing on a Saturday and ending on a Sunday. Tell your friends to enter a team (two couples).

Art Hodgkinson will co-ordinate the time-table for volunteer helpers to staff the arena for these days. President Gene Whitney says "to make the bonspiel a 100 percent success we need 100 percent co-operation". Call Art Hodgkinson or Win Minto, tell them the time and date you prefer to help and they will appreciate it. Wouldn't Art be surprised and delighted if you called him NOW!

Another exciting project is the "Snowmobile Draw". Alton Duncan was unanimously appointed as chairman for this important fund-raising effort. Dunc will expect every man (ladies too) to do their duty — Sell - Sell - Sell.

Car Leaves Highway Hit Checked Sign

Ronald McCallum, 22, of Fenelon Falls, suffered minor cuts and bruises in a one-car crash near Minden late last Saturday.

He was driving north on Highway 121 near the junction of Highways 35 and 121 when the car he was driving struck a large checkerboard sign. The car came to rest in the west ditch of Highway 35. The McCallum car received damage estimated at $500.

Police charged McCallum with careless driving.

Rear-End Collision

Etta Harris, 16, of Coboconk, was the driver of a car which collided with the rear of a pick-up truck owned by Ross Faulkner of Coboconk on Sunday evening near Coboconk. Provincial Police Const. Albert Kea estimated damage at $110.

Congratulations To Local Students

Congratulations to Brian Good, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Good of Haliburton, who has passed his first medical year at Queen's University at Kingston.

Congratulations to Barbara Prentice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Prentice of West Guilford, who has graduated from Queen's University in Kingston. Barbara who is 21 years of age now has her B.A. degree.

Congratulations to Gloria Harrison, daughter of Mrs. Eva Harrison and the late Ray Harrison of R.R. 2, Minden, who was in the graduation class at the first convocation held at Trent University in Peterborough on Friday last. Gloria was a student at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School from 1959 to 1964.

Joe Iles Lands Large Lake Trout

Who was it that said the fishing is poor in Kashagawigamog Lake? Joe Iles of Haliburton claims the fishing is good in Kashagawigamog Lake and he has the fish to prove it.

While fishing with Gerry Wood of Haliburton on Wednesday evening Joe landed a ten pound lake trout that was 30 inches long. He said he caught the fish on a Williams Wobler.

We have heard of some other fine catches in the same lake.

Fenelon Falls New Post Office Tender Let To Peterboro Firm

A Peterborough construction firm, Joore and Kraetzer Ltd., has been awarded a $65,932 contract for the construction of a new post office in Fenelon Falls, Ont., Public Works Minister George J. McIlraith announced this week. Fenelon Falls is an industrial town in a summer resort area 16 miles north of Lindsay.

The successful tender was the lowest of nine opened on May 10. The high bid was $93,000.

Located directly west of the Municipal Office on Dufferin Street, the new Post Office exterior will harmonize with the appearance of the former.

Exposed quartz-aggregate concrete block panels will be used on the front and west side of the Post Office. Brick veneer with wood and steel framing will complete the exterior finish of the building.

New post office accommodation will be provided in the 52-by-50-foot structure. Heating will be by an oil-fired hot air system.

Jail Plans Approved

Preliminary plans for a Tri-County regional Detention Centre near Millbrook have been approved by the Department of Reform Institutions, Ald. Donald Loucks reported to Peterborough city council on Monday.

Architects Barnett and Reider of Toronto will move to working drawings and the calling of tenders, Mr. Loucks said.

The $1.5 million structure, financed jointly by the province with three area counties and the city, will be built on an 18-acre site off Highway 115.

The centre will replace older county jails in Peterborough, Lindsay and Cobourg.

Letters To The Editor

5 Walder Avenue,
Toronto 12, Ontario.
May 30, 1967.

Mr. Berkeley Feir, Editor,
The Haliburton County Echo,
Box 360,
Haliburton, Ontario.

Dear Mr. Feir:

We believe that you would be interested in the following for publication in the next issue of The Echo. As you know, a large number of your subscribers are property owners on the lakes in Dysart Township and I am sure that they would be very interested in the formation of the North Kashagawigamog Lake Association. I believe that the following is self explanatory.

The inaugural meeting of the North Kashagawigamog Lake Association was held recently at Dell Haven Lodge with many interested lakefront property owners in attendance. This Association has been formed to represent all property owners on Head Lake, Grass Lake and North Kashagawigamog Lake (north from the southern boundary of Dysart Township).

The Association will concern itself in taking an interest in everything which may contribute to the health, pleasure, comfort and security of those living temporarily or permanently in this district. We plan to deal with such matters as water levels, marking of shoals and dangers to navigation, water pollution, maintenance of roads and public docks, forest protection, stocking of waters with fish, taxes, protection of property of members, and building restrictions.

Any interested property owner, regardless of whether they are a temporary or permanent resident on any of these three lakes, is invited to apply for membership enclosing the annual membership fee of $2.00 to Mr. N. J. Thomson, 5 Walder Avenue, Toronto 12, Ontario.

Yours very truly,
N. J. Thomson, Sec.-Treas.

HALIBURTON NEWS LETTER

Residents of the municipality last week received a dose of medicine that was far from palatable, it came in the form of a tax bill. It is amusing to hear some of the members of our council being raked over the coals regarding the stiff rise in taxes but if those who offer this criticism would look over their tax bills they would soon discover that council have pretty well held the line, but educational costs over which they have no jurisdiction seem to be getting completely out of hand. One wonders when you take into consideration that in this area where the average home owner has an income of less than $50.00 per week where we are going to end up. As we have stated before, some means must be found to relieve the home owner of the ever increasing tax burden caused by educational costs or they will not be able to pay, and many municipalities will be facing bankruptcy.

The Bridge and Euchre Party sponsored by the Eastern Star and held at Birch Point, Lodge last Friday night was a great success, with over 80 people attending.

The Haliburton Rotarians will be out tonight (Thursday) for their pick-up of articles for their upcoming Auction Sale to be held in July. Please give any articles you can.

The Haliburton Businessmen will hold their meeting tonight (Thursday) at 8:15 p.m. at the Curling Rink in Haliburton.

Trout Hooked With Fish Eggs In Bag

LENDSEY (ENS) — An unorthodox, but seemingly effective way to catch rainbow trout, was used by a number of anglers who crowded Ontario streams on opening day of the trout season, reports the Department of Lands and Forests.

The bait consisted of a piece of nylon stocking into which were placed eight rainbow trout eggs. The "sack" was then tied and attached to a single small hook and cast out into the stream and "worked" as it was reeled back in.

One of the largest trout netted weighed 14 pounds and many others ranged from eight to 10 pounds, the Department reports.

THE NATION'S BUSINESS

By WILLIAM C. SCOTT, M.P.

In the first few weeks of the new session of the House of Commons the thoughts of many Members have been turned inward. Especially until the crisis in the Middle East became a matter demanding more consideration, there was talk and expression of feeling on Parliament Hill that the needs for reform of our legislative processes must now more than ever be attended to.

In fact, it was this very issue on foreign policy which showed up at least one of the things that is wrong with Parliament. For, as a number of newspapers have pointed out, when John Diefenbaker rose in the House to demand immediate debate of the government policies regarding the Middle East and Viet Nam, the Speaker ruled that, under the rules of the Chamber, such a debate could not take place. The Speaker was in no way incorrect in his treatment of the matter, for it is a simple fact that the present very complex regulations governing what is or is not urgent leave no room for the kind of discussion which should take place in such cases.

We can all hope and pray that the efforts of diplomats in the Middle East and elsewhere will result in advances for the cause of peace. But, before this new crisis broke, and when it ends, the issue behind the issues on Parliament Hill will still be parliament itself.

There are very few people here or anywhere who would not agree that something needs to be done with parliamentary rules. Most people point to the slowness with which the House of Commons reacts to the needs of the people of Canada. They will tell you that politicians talk too much, that there is far too much debate over things which don't affect very many people. And they will also tell you that even though the House sits for sessions of record length, not very much gets done.

The priorities for action, the matters which are dealt with by members of Parliament are set by the people in power, the Government of Canada. If the government chooses to place at the head of its list something which most people feel is useless, then there is only one thing the people can do and that is get rid of the government. The recent speech from the Throne, as we all know, was very vague. It makes Mr. Pearson's passion for quick passage of legislation look pretty strange, for it is obvious to just about everybody that, if you want to get something done and that something requires study and thought, then you have to tell people what the something is so they can begin to study it and think about it.

In the first week of the session, when discussions on Parliament Hill centred on just how Members can do their jobs better, it became painfully apparent that the Prime Minister is playing a double game. If he wants parliamentary reform, let him set out his programme, let him face this nation's problems, let him give direction where there is none.

Once the government has set down its intentions for everybody to see and once it has recognized its responsibilities, Members of the House of Commons can follow suit and consider with equal dispassion the issues before it. No one would claim, however, that all the ills of Parliament are the fault of the government, but few are going to deny that the initiative for reform must come from those in power. The attitude the government has taken is one of reform for everybody but the government itself.

If we assume that Mr. Pearson would take the first vital steps in updating the process by providing a clearcut picture of what he wants to do and why he wants to do it, then the question arises: What else can be done to make parliament a more useful institution? There are many different approaches to this problem, but several features of every alternative stand out.

An M.P. should know just what the demands on his time are going to be. The government should say when parliamentary sessions are going to begin and how long they are going to last. If an M.P. knew just when he was expected to be in Ottawa, he could prepare for it, he could obtain the views of his people, he could make any necessary arrangements to ensure that he could be where he was supposed to be when he was supposed to be there. At the moment, most M.P.'s spend a great deal of time running backwards and forwards between Ottawa and their constituencies. If the estimates of parliament were set out ahead of time, both the Member and his constituents would know when to expect him in one place or the other.

If the government or anyone else expects shorter debates in the House of Commons, it must provide for more informed debates. The more you know about something, the less you are likely to say because what you do say will be strictly to the point. Members of Parliament need more information and better information. They need help. In Ottawa, they soon come to realize that there is only so much they can accomplish in a day no matter how late they stay at their desks each night.

My colleague, Alf Hales of Wellington South, has come up with an idea which would go a long way towards solving the problem of the thousands of pages of printing which cross a Member's desk during a week. Mr. Hales has proposed that young graduates of our universities come to Ottawa in a kind of "internship" programme where each of them would be assigned to one Member of Parliament to help him with his workload. Not even he will say the idea is perfect but it is certainly a beginning. The government would prove its sincerity and establish its dedication to the idea of reform by giving the plan immediate and full consideration.

These are just a few of the ideas for fixing what is wrong in parliament. There are many others, but there is no doubt that once the Member knows what the government intends, and has time to think it over and make a reasoned decision, Parliament will have taken the first great step. The second step must be a careful one for it must not infringe on the right of debate and freedom of speech. Perhaps it would be both sensible and revealing if only minor rule changes were made in the actual debating.

TAKE PEN IN HAND

What's the most common question being batted about the country these days? That's right. It's, "Are you going to Expo?"

Well, are you? If not, why not? You can't afford it? Of course you can. You mean you can't afford to miss it.

Yeah, you say, but what about bread, loot, gelt, money? Nothing to it. Anybody who can't make some fast money in this ridiculous world deserves to starve to death, let alone not go to Expo.

I have a few suggestions. In fact, I have quite a few, because I've been giving the matter of our own trip some thought. I've discarded one or two of them for various reasons, but it's every man to his own taste, and one or more of them might be just the ticket for you.

Put your wife to work. If she's already working, and you still can't afford the trip, have an auction sale and get rid of a lot of that old junk you've accumulated over the years. This does not refer to your wife.

If you haven't any old junk, think of something. Throw a bingo party. Chickenfeed, you say? All right then, how about throwing a martini party, at $5 a rattle, on the Monday of a holiday weekend, when everybody has run out of booze? You'd clear about $300.

Buy some veterans' calendars, cut off one of your arms, and sell them door to door.

Come on, you can figure out a gimmick. Send your kids out mowing lawns. If you have no kids, send your mother-in-law out mowing lawns. And if she's too decrepit, insure her heavily and push her off a cliff.

Arrange with a friend to bump your car gently from behind at a stop light, then run screaming to the doctor and claim you have a whiplash and collect bags of insurance.

No? How about some blackmail? Know anybody who's running around with somebody who shouldn't be running around with anybody?

Have a moving van come in the middle of the night, remove all your furniture, then you set fire to the house and claim insurance for it and the furniture. You could clear $3,000 on this one.

Speaking of moving vans, how about pushing your wife, or husband, in front of a moving moving van, provided you have a joint account and mutual insurance?

All of these are too coarse, or common, or complicated for you? My, you are an old poke. So run a bookie joint, sell pot, hold up a bank, if you want something simple.

Against your principles? Well, all right, all right, but it shows the depths of depravity to which I can sink in the middle of the night, as I try to figure out how we can afford Expo plus all the redecorating my wife is doing.

Well, you and your danged principles have forced me into it. Here's the deal. We're going to have a contest. Now, we all love contests, don't we? I have been writing this column for about 14 years, without missing a week. I want a week off to go to Expo. Still with me?

I have a great many faithful readers (and no doubt a fair smattering of unfaithful ones, too). Many of them write very well, as I know from letters received.

For the best guest column submitted, I will personally send a cheque for $25, along with an autographed copy of my latest book. The latest one is the one I haven't written for MacMillan Company. The other books I haven't written were not published by McLelland-Stewart and Prentice-Hall.

This handsome award (so I'm not J. P. Morgan) will be supplemented by the Telegram News Service, 440 Front St. W., Toronto 2B. They will either double or triple the cash award, depending on their attitude when they read this, which is the first they've heard of it.

Topic: anything you like. Length: about 700 words. Send all entries to above address.

And there you are. Cash. If you win, you can take your choice. You can hitch-hike to Expo and blow the whole bundle on high living. Or you can bet it on a horse, fly to Montreal and rough it at the Queen Elizabeth.

This is real. Get cracking today.

Crippled Children's Camping Program Getting Underway

As the end of another school year approaches, many of Ontario's youngsters are already excitedly making plans to attend summer camp.

Children everywhere respond to camping, and the crippled child is no exception to this attraction.

By mid-June, the Ontario Society for Crippled Children's annual summer camping program will again get under way.

This seasonal program has continued without interruption since 1937, at which time the Society acquired its first camp: Blue Mountain Camp, near Collingwood.

Today, thirty years later, the Society owns and operates five camps specially designed to provide more than 1,200 crippled children with a happy and healthful two or three week vacation. This part of the Society's program for crippled children is just another example of the facilities and services made possible by your support of the annual Easter Seal campaign conducted by your local Easter Seal service clubs.

The crippled children's camp serving your area is Northwood Camp on Lake Simcoe, north of Kirkland Lake.

Camp Director for the season will be Miss Doris Linscott, Reg.N., Assistant Supervisor of Camps for the Ontario Society for Crippled Children. A graduate of Brantford General Hospital, Miss Linscott holds a diploma in teaching and supervision from the University of Toronto. Her professional capacity has been greatly enhanced by ten years service with the Royal Canadian Air Force and a number of supervisory posts.

Under her direction, an active and extensive program will be conducted with the help of experienced staff counsellors recruited from various colleges and universities across the province.

Speech On Post Office Estimates

By WILLIAM C. SCOTT, M.P.

I wish to congratulate the Postmaster General for the general efficiency of his Department in Ottawa and note with pleasure that it doesn't exhibit the top-heaviness and redundancy that is often a mark of Federal Departments.

I also feel that, in the rush of modern communications, we all too easily forget the people employed in the rural post offices and delivery services of this country.

There is much more to a postmaster's job than the salary he picks up at the end of the week. In fact, it may accurately be said that few public servants have more intimate contact with those they serve than the people who deliver the mail.

It has been most gratifying to me that the Post Office Department has seen fit to construct several new buildings with associated facilities in my area. These buildings were much needed and I think are much appreciated by the people of my riding and by those whose task it is to work in the postal services.

Mindful as I am of the recent upgrading of mail services in Victoria - Haliburton, I cannot help but comment upon the general state of rural delivery services and associated facilities across the country. While I fully realize that a great percentage of our people now live in cities, I believe — and I think Honourable Members will agree with me — that it is no less important to improve the features of rural mail service than it is of those in urban areas. Therefore, I would respectfully suggest that, in any planning undertaken by the Department, priority be given to these rural services. Only those of us who live in rural Canada really have any idea of the conditions under which our postmasters work and, even then, we couldn't know as well as the postmasters themselves. In the rush of the modernization of services, let us not forget that the most challenging situation for modernization exists in the rural areas. I am sure that the Postmaster General realizes these things and is taking steps to remedy any problems there might be in this area of his Department's responsibilities.

In our Centennial Year, I, and many other Canadians, have been impressed by the series of commemorative stamps issued by the Post Office to honour various events. I believe that our postage stamps, designed as they are with artistry and imagination, help give Canadians a genuine sense of achievement in the many fields with which these stamps deal. I would not suggest for a moment that we attempt to follow the lead of some countries and issue postage stamps just for the sake of extra revenue or postal notoriety. But I do think, as do many of my constituents, and I am sure many Canadians, that we should widen, within reasonable limits, our issuing of commemorative stamps as a useful record of Canadian accomplishments.

I offer, as an example, the great work being done by our Service Clubs right across this country. The Postmaster General has recently received a letter from the National President of the Association of Kinsmen's Clubs and I was recently privileged to ask a question in the House regarding the issuance of a stamp in honour of the 50th Anniversary of this Association. I think that this kind of commemorative stamp would increase our understanding and appreciation of such groups as the Kinsmen, and I would think that a stamp issue of this kind would in no way threaten to make such commemorations too frequent for our liking. I have used Kinsmen's Clubs as my example because there is, between now and 1970, ample time to consider a suggestion before this particular association celebrates its 50th anniversary in that year. But I would not limit commemorative issues to the Kinsmen, or even to service clubs, alone. I think there are several other areas of Canadian life in which national organizations have made lasting contributions to our country, and I believe that they, too, might be considered.

As I said before, I don't think we should have too many special issues of stamps, but I think we could increase our present output without hampering the image we wish to create.

Veterans Week

June 11 - June 17

There are approximately 975,000 veterans of Canada's wars living today — and most of them will be kept mighty busy from Sunday, June 11 to Saturday, June 17.

By royal proclamation this period has been declared Veterans Week — and a busy program of events to celebrate the occasion has been arranged across Canada.

It is fitting that during Centennial Year we should honour the men and women who, by their sacrifices in times of war, and their good citizenship in times of peace, have played a major part in building the Canada we know today.

Veterans have been asked to wear their discharge button during the Week and this, in itself, will lead to much frantic activity as many may have trouble finding "the badge of honour" which they have not worn for more than 20 years.

As we pay tribute to the veterans who live, there will be a special thought for those who died — more than 112,000 who made the greatest sacrifice of all and are buried in 70 countries around the world.

Extreme Shortage Of Doctors In Victoria - Haliburton Area

The Victoria - Haliburton area has an extreme shortage of doctors and no relief in the situation is in sight for the immediate future.

Dr. F. J. Moran, President of the Victoria - Haliburton Medical Society, commenting on the shortage of physicians, said the number of doctors in the area served by the Ross Memorial Hospital should be increased one-third to have the minimum number necessary to cover the area.

At present there are 30 doctors of which six are specialists, covering an area of some 3,250 square miles. The area extends from the south of Sunderland north to Algonquin Park, and includes the north parts of Peterborough and Ontario Counties, part of Durham County and all of Victoria and Haliburton Counties.

How can the problem be remedied? Dr. Moran says he doesn't know.

He said he and other doctors have tried to persuade other physicians to come into the area but they have had no success.

Dr. Moran said universities hoped to graduate more doctors in 15 years and he expected this would relieve the problem in the more rural areas but there was no immediate relief in sight.

"It is the people who suffer," he said.

"Persons requiring the services of a doctor now often find it difficult to get a physician and it is becoming increasingly difficult for persons to get a doctor when they need one," Dr. Moran told the press.

According to the Medical Society President the reason they can't get recently graduated doctors from the city is because they "haven't got the guts to come up to this area". Dr. Moran said young doctors are frightened of being on their own — afraid they would not know what to do if an emergency arose.

He said if some doctors in suburbia would come to the area and "give it a try" they would find they would be just as happy as where they presently are.

(Lindsay Daily Post)

Bicroft District In Haliburton Could Be Township

The people of the improvement district of Bicroft may soon be able to apply to the Ontario Municipal Board to have their municipality classified as a township.

An act to amend the Municipal Act was approved by the committee on Municipal and Legal Bills this week.

Glen Hodgson, M.P.P., said this permissive legislation would provide the authority to the people for the possible change of Bicroft into a township within Haliburton County.

Under present legislation improvement districts are managed by an appointed board of trustees. The change, now permissible, will allow the people to elect a council, Mr. Hodgson said.

"The people who have served as members of the Board of Trustees have conducted the affairs of the community well over the years," said the provincial member for Victoria and Haliburton. Continuing, he said "due to the change of the area from one of mining to its present status, it was felt at this time, provision should be made to allow the local citizens to change their community classification if they wished."

Card of Thanks

I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to all those who sent flowers, cards, fruit and for telephone enquiries while I was a patient in the Haliburton Hospital. A special thanks to Doctors Good and Bowmer, nurses and staff and also the clergy.

Bert Carpenter.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to friends, neighbours and relatives for cards and calls while in the hospital, also those who helped at home. Special thanks to Dr. Good, Dr. Service, Dr. Watson and nurses and staff at Ross Memorial Hospital.

Bill Hartin.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to friends, relatives and neighbours for cards, flowers, gifts and visits while I was in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough. Special thanks to Dr. Lewis, Dr. Washart, also the nurses and staff.

Laurice McKay.

At this time we would like to express our sincere thanks to relatives, friends and neighbours for acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy tendered us during our recent sad bereavement in the loss of our young son. Special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. James Green and staff of the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurel Coumbs and Judy.

IN MEMORIAM

HAMILTON — In loving memory of Robert Francis Hamilton, who passed away June 6, 1966. He would not wish for us to grieve,

He would not ask for tears;
But just to be remembered,
Throughout the passing years.

—Sadly missed and ever remembered by daughter and son-in-law Bernice and Orval, grandchildren Bob, Bill and Elizabeth, Bev and Michael.

JOHNSTON — In loving memory of a dear son, Roy, who passed away June 11, 1964.

He left us quietly, his thoughts unknown,

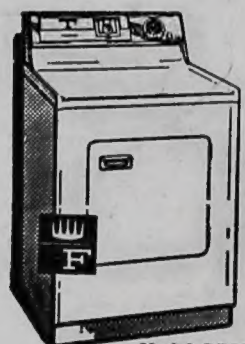

But left us a memory we are proud to own;
So treasure him Lord, in your garden of rest,
For when on earth he was one of the best.

—Sadly missed by Mother, Brother and Sister.

Comment By R. Glen Hodgson, M.P.P.Compensation for Injuries to Persons Aiding Peace Officers

An Act to provide compensation for injuries received by persons assisting peace officers was introduced this week by the Honourable A. A. Wishart, Attorney General.

The bill provides for compensation for injuries to persons while assisting police and for compensation for the dependents where death results.

The proposed Law Enforcement Compensation Act sets up a board to adjudicate claims and award the compensation, which will be made from a fund set up by the Legislature.

Under this Bill, payments will be limited to a lump sum of $10,000 or instalments of $500 a month.

The proposed Law Enforcement Compensation Board will consist of three to five members appointed by the Provincial Cabinet. It will be empowered to prosecute civil actions toward recovering some or all of the payments from persons involved.

This is another of the Government's measures which was forecast in the Speech from the Throne on January 25th last.

Extension of Crop Insurance Program

This week the Minister of Agriculture announced that a test program for insurance on forage crop is being undertaken by the Crop Insurance Commission of Ontario.

A plan has been designed to include hay, hay silage, corn silage and seeded pasture on the basis of normal expected yield.

This plan represents another first on the North American Continent for such a forage crops insurance program. In Ontario, insurance is already available on winter wheat and spring grains.

The extension of this insurance program will be tested in two areas of the province: in western Ontario in the counties of Bruce, Grey and Huron; and in eastern Ontario in the counties of Prince Edward, Renfrew and Lennox and Addington. If the plan proves to be acceptable in the test areas this season, it will be made available on a province-wide basis next year.

This is the third program to be developed by the Insurance Commission since it was established last September. It is a realistic approach to the problem of affording protection in the event of severe forage crop losses suffered by Ontario farmers, as in recent years. The plan provides the comprehensive protection afforded by our present insurance contracts against the hazards of drought, hail, wind, frost, flood, plant diseases, insect infestation, excessive rainfall and excessive moisture.

Uncle Dudley's Column

As I drive over our roads this time of year I am always thrilled by the showing of our Trilliums as they blanket the hardwood hills on every side.

I fear we are quite often blind to the beauties of nature about us at every hand. We might even do well to capitalize on these blessings by having a "Trillium Weekend" to give the city dwellers an opportunity of seeing our country when these, our provincial emblem, are at their best.

Shortly after the trillium is finished the beautiful dog-wood bush will be giving its quota to our enjoyment.

I would hope the opening of the "Peterson Trail" would not decrease these lovely blooms, however it would be possible to make a great difference if too many were taken. After all, the Buffalo and the Carrier Pigeon became extinct by over hunting, etc.

There is a belief that the Trillium will not stand removal from its native soils. I was anxious to prove this so some years ago. I took up some hills and set them in a small area around our home. I think everyone prospered and as I write there is one clump with 19 lovely blooms from the one bulb outside my window.

I do not expect this is a record, but it shows they can be brought to the home garden, and add to the beauty of the home.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taylor who are the proud parents of a baby girl born two weeks ago.

We understand that the Wilberforce Volunteer Fire Department are awaiting the arrival of a new fire truck, but the delivery is held up on account of a strike at the plant.

The annual Auction Sale in aid of the Fire Department is to be held in July and anyone having articles suitable for this auction please take them to the Hall.

A Music Festival was held on Friday, June 2nd in the Harcourt
